Charter Presented at H. & S. Meeting

An excellent crowd turned out to Home and School, Monday evening to support Mrs. Booker, Grade I teacher as she explained and illustrated the modern techniques of reading as they are effectively applied in teaching the small fry in our school.

The first step of word recognition is taught by associating words to large, beautiful and meaningful pictures, which revolve a mother, father, children and pets. Then the alphabet and phonetics are introduced, and the child is taught to build and weave these, along with word recognition, to lay a firm foundation in the skill of reading and spelling.

Mrs. Booker then demonstrated the teaching of reading by taking ten parents from the audience as her class, of six year olds. By means of pictures, and foreign symbols, as material she set about to teach them to read. These pupils worked hard and easily learned associations and some guess work were able to read, and proved that in every class there are the quick, average and slow learners; and also that much patience and understanding are required on the part of the teacher.

Mr. Wiggin and Mr. Alden expressed their thanks to Mrs. Booker and others on behalf of those present for the interesting and informative program.

Dr. McMichael gave a short talk on the First Aid Home Nursing classes as sponsored by the St. John's Ambulance Corp. of Calgary. The fee for registration is $1, and classes are scheduled to commence January 6 in the school. Anyone interested is asked to contact Dr. McMichael or Mrs. Raymond Asquith.

The charter was presented to Mr. Wiggin and will be hung in an appropriate spot in the school.

Mrs. H. Traub gave an interesting account of the work done at the school shop and passed on many helpful suggestions for program planning.

Mrs. Clarke reported on the Conference held at Red Deer recently and told of the many interesting subjects that were dealt with, she urged all members to listen to the "School for Parents" at 2:30 every Thursday over C.B.C.

Room mothers were introduced by Mrs. Clarke and their duties briefly outlined.

The December meeting will be held December 12. There will be a film shown "You and Your Family," depicting the Christmas spirit in the home.

All mothers are asked to bring a box of lunch to serve two; these will be sold for 50¢ per box. Husbands are asked to turn out and make this a truly successful evening.

BERGEN NOTES

(From Our Own Correspondent)

At a recent meeting of the Bergen Ladies Aid, Mrs. A. Olson and Mrs. Ivor Erickson were each presented with life memberships and a gift in appreciation of their long and faithful service to the organization.

Mrs. Olson came to the district in 1907 and the Ladies Aid was organized after Mrs. Erickson moved here in 1911.

Mrs. Olson is at this time a patient in the Didsbury hospital. All her friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Grandma Halverson is now home from the hospital and is staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Ellis.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gamble visited in the district for a couple of days.

Miss Solveig Clarke and Carol were both in bed with the flu for several days.

Winter seems to have come with a vengeance. The mercury has dropped to below thirty for several nights.

Shown above is Edward Brooke, Montreal fencer, who was awarded the Norton H. Crowe trophy as Canada's outstanding athlete of the year by the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada at its annual meeting in Saskatoon. Mr. Brooke attended the British Empire Games in Auckland, N.Z., last summer and was a participant in the Empire Games. He also made a very fine showing in the Olympic Games held in Finland in 1952. In case your wondering, the Brooke of whom we speak was born in Didsbury, went to school at Spring-side, high school in Didsbury, attended the University of Alberta and came out with a degree in chemical engineering and at the present time is chief engineer for McColl Frontenac with head office at Montreal. His mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Brooke, reside northwest of Didsbury and Ed's father point out that he homesteaded at that point in 1901. Another brother, Stanley, has been Canadian Archer champion during the years 1952-53. ('Must run in the family').

Remembrance Day Service Held Here

The November 11th memorial service held in the armories, was quite attended considering the extreme cold weather. Rev. Doyle was in charge of the service and gave an inspiring address. It might be mentioned here that we should all make a special effort to attend services such as this — after all we are paying tribute to our fallen comrades from past wars. They gave their lives so we may live in peace, have freedom of speech and religion. It should be no effort actually to honor such as these.

The annual turkey supper in the school was well attended, again in spite of the inclement weather, and those present were treated to a very fine meal.

The Legion would like to thank all those who were responsible for the remarkable response to the poppy and wreath sale. All proceeds go to the benevolent fund for needy veterans.

Ramblin' . . .

Following up previous comments and suggestions made in this column, we would like to report:

THAT there will be ice in the Didsbury Memorial Arena this year. (Ice-making has already been started)

THAT Rita Hayworth (movie queen?) is asking for another divorce. We still haven't been informed as to whether it is the fourth or fifth.

THAT all our talk as regards the "Didsbury Highway" have produced nothing yet. The only reports we have had concern broken springs and noisy car frames. Could we be should have an airplane.

THAT serious consideration is being given by local hockey moguls as regards entering a team in a district league.

THAT there will be stop signs erected at one of the controversial intersections in our town.

THAT a couple of former Didsbury Rambler hockey players will be performing this season with the Olds Elks. (We said Morgan and Smith; right again!).

THAT the golliers who had decided earlier to play a few more games this year have suddenly taken up curling. Wonder why?

THAT we have had only one answer to our likes and dislikes — yet we still hear murmurs from the sidelines.

THAT we're still short of time and newsprint. See you next week.

Notes From D.A.

Artificial lights to maintain egg production during the shorter days of the winter months will make a laying flock more profitable. Lighting should be used to keep a 12 hour day as a minimum. Lighting should be regular commencing and ceasing the same time each day. When all-night lighting is used the intensity may be reduced.

The lights should be down the line separating between the dropping board and front of chicken house; these lights can be placed in a line about 10 feet apart. One 40 watt bulb per each 200 square feet of floor space is sufficient. When a laying house is more than 24 feet in width two rows of light will be required. Lights should be suspended 6 feet from the floor level.

In placing lights and equipment in the house, have less light on the roosts and the greatest intensity on water and feed bins, feeders. The installation of all electric equipment should be done according to electrical regulations, short cuts or make-shift wiring may result in loss of the building and flock due to fire. Even if this does not occur the faulty wiring will use more power and may fail at various times cancelling the benefit gained from regular extra

"COURAGE TO FORGET"
A peddler was offering some chickens for sale. The farmer said, "Well, this is course or something, you steal my chickens, and they try to get them back to me."

"Yes sir, I thought you would pay a better price for chickens you raised yourself."

A guest was leaving a big city hotel with only ten minutes to catch his train. At the desk he exclaimed, "I've forgotten something. Here boy run up to my room on the eighth floor and see if I have forgotten my shaving kit."

About nine minutes later the boy, empty handed, and all out of breath, was shouting, "Yes sir, you sure did forget your shaving kit. It's there alright."

Regardless of how we may dislike paying for chickens of our own raising, or that of meeting the inconveniences of our own forgetfulness; there are things we ought to forget. Moral courage and the art of forgetting are necessary techniques on the road to progress.

Why remember the irritations of the day so long as to let them distract us from work the following day? Failures also should always be forgotten. After squeezing any lessons we can from our failures we should forget them forever. Why stumble over that which is past?

Neither the forgiveness of man nor the forgiveness of our Heavenly Father, can do us any good until we are willing to turn our backs on yesterday, determined by God's grace to start life anew.

A clean sheet is always best to write on.

It is often necessary to forget our successes we can so easily cherish the joy of a past success and let that keep us looking backward until we lose sight of any possible new victories and their attending satisfactions. Any success should only be remembered when the remembering of it becomes a stepping stone to some future achievement. Memories should never be a stumbling block to man of failure; nor a cause of defeat.

In Prescott's story of Mexico, he relates how when Cortez was compelled to leave the city, he piled all the gold he had accumulated in the center of the room; "Take what you wish," said he. "But remember, he who travels best tonight will travel light." Later when they were forced to swim across a river, men found dead in the water, because they did not have the courage to forget the耻 of a former success.

The courage to forget is always a vital factor in religious work. So if

Westcott W.I. To Have Christmas Party

Westcott W.I. met at the home of Mrs. Clarence Larson on Wednesday, November 2nd instead of our regular day, the 3rd with 11 members present.

Roll call was each member to come with their hair done in an "up-swept fashion." This caused roars of laughter all afternoon. Mrs. Larson's hair-do was judged the best as it concerned appearance that most.

A Christmas card is to be sent to Norah W. L. in England with all our names written in.

A chenille bedspread was to be bought and given to Miss June Klinck, a November bride-elect as a wedding gift from Westcott W.I.

Mrs. Raymond Shantz had the educational talk for this meeting. She chose an article on "We have always been persecuted" by a reporter on the Rutherford Colony, on Wilson Sidings near Lethbridge.

$10 is to be donated to the Senior Citizens Home, W. I. project fund. $25 is to be member to be sent to the A. W. I. fund.

As a move towards making out our 1956 program suggestions were given for this, to be worked into finished programs December meeting.

December meeting is to commence at 1:30 o'clock, instead of 2 p.m. as it will be a lengthy program.

Ladies: Don't forget your parcel for "Christmas pie" also roll call is to be Christmas place cards and Christmas customs in other lands.

ten we let old methods stand in our way when new and better methods for doing our Master's work are not only possible but are so urgently needed today. Many an effort which has been a powerful instrument for the advancement of the Kingdom, has later become a slowing up process in the spread of the gospel message so effectively involved and successful. The evaluation of the fundamental efforts in the building of a Christian Society, has often lagged, because some of the finest and best of people have lacked the courage to forget. If our work as a Christian people is to be vital, and to be continually pressing forward toward the highest and best, there is to be obtained through faith in Jesus, as a personal Savior; that goal will be best realized when we forget everything, but our burning desire to be completely moulded by His Spirit from within.

I know Thee Savior, who Thou art,

Jesus, the feeble sinner's Friend;

Nor wilt Thou with the night depart,

But stay and love me to the end.

When Jesus makes my heart His home,

My sin shall all depart;

And lo, He saith, I quickly come,

To fill and rule thy heart."

Stampeders Talk

CALGARY — Frank Currie is a busy man. His main post as manager and coach of the pro Stampeders is a tiresome one, but he added another this year by becoming thoroughly involved in the newly-formed Calgary Hockey Commission. He is chairman of that group and it's no honorary position.

The commission is concerning itself with all minor hockey in the city but its main baby is the spanking new Calgary Junior Hockey League. Seven teams will play in the first year. Exhibition and Stampede Ltd. were rapped on the knuckles a couple of months ago for failing to pick up the Moose Jaw franchise in the Western Junior League after that city's link had burned down.

The exhibition board had other plans, plans which could prove of much better value to hockey in general. The plan, with Currie as one of the main instigators, was for the city to locate junior league taking in as many kids as possible.

Practices attracted more than 150 juniors to tryout camps and there are still 140 players on the six teams. The teams limited and looked after by six different community associations will play their hockey in the modern Stampede Corral.

The league is no hit-and-miss proposition. It's well organized from top to bottom with persons well known in the business world looking after the different aspects of the operation. Currie for example, has undertaken to teach community coaches—from pee-wee up to intermediate—the finer points of his trade. Tiny Thompson, a former NHL green who scouts for Chicago Black Hawks, and Doug Stevenson, last season's regular goalie with Stampede, teach prospective netminders. Followed by Butch Deneen, Harry Coburn, with whom amateur hockey referees in these parts conduct schools for potential arbiters.

General instructions to players are also given. The juniors will play a 30-game schedule and end the season with their own play-offs. For this season at least they will not enter provincial play-offs. An interesting part of Currie's instructions to his coaches is his TWTFW plan.

Frank says there are three important factors in the making of a successful athlete, and especially a hockey player. This is the C. D. and W. plan.

C is the first letter of many important words, but the most important is CONDITION. D also stands for a lot of things, but the main one is DISCIPLINE, an athlete must be able to discipline himself to carry out the rules that go with being an athlete. W is divided into WEIGHT, WORK and WIGHT. Making preparations to work on time for practices, looking forward to games and always being ready to do anything that will improve his game. Weight is also important, two or three pounds, one way or the other can mean a big difference to a key player.

Currie says that if you can get your club to work on the C. D. and W. plan you'll help put them in the TWTFW. THIS WILL TO WIN.

Ray Frederick won 158-01 minutes without allowing the opposition a single goal. The record is 182-34 minutes established by Jerry Conroy of Victoria in the 1940-51 season. Ray's seasonal record included shutouts against Vancouver and Edmonton.

A rural visitor to New York strolled into a super deluxe food shop that specialized in out-of-season fruits. Staggered to learn that a small basket price was $12, he asked if it was made for the dog only to return and place a fine silver piece on the counter before the haggard saleslady.

"What's that for, sir?" she asked.
"I'm sorry," he smiled sheepishly.
"I stepped on a grape."

An irate lawyer trying to establish a point in cross-examination demanded of the cross-examined: "Madam, while you were taking your dog for a walk, did you stop any place?"

"Sir," the witness said quietly, "did you ever take a dog for a walk?"

An amateur yachtsman, who had just been initiated into the mysteries of the art of navigation, suddenly said to his sextant and shouted to his companion, "Take off your hat."

"Why should I?" asked his bearded friend.

"Because according to my calculations," replied the yachtsman, "we are in the center of St. Patrick's Cathedral."

A young lady contemplating a trip south was looking at bathing suits and in one particular — a very abbreviated model — took her eye. "Are you sure this one won't shrink?" she asked the clerk.

"Absolutely, Miss," he answered.

"It just has nowhere to shrink to."

A distinguished dignitary of the church had been warned by his physician that he need both exercise and a hobby for the sake of his health. He suggested golf and the minister dutifully bought a set of clubs and started lessons at the local club.

After several days of practice, the pro decided he would give his pupil a trial. He teed up the ball, handed the minister a driver and awaited the results.

The first swing was a complete miss. "Oh, my goodness," murmured the exasperated golfer.

He tried three more swings, each one hitting several inches behind the ball. On the next try, a divot came flying up. The disgruntled minister glared at the ball muttering, "Put it in."

The instructor shook his head. "Reverend," he said, "you'll never learn to play golf with them words!"

A husband complained, "You pay fifty cents a dozen for buns. If I were shopping I'd get a dozen for forty cents."

"You're welcome to try," snapped his wife.

So off he went to the bakery and pointed to a tray of buns. "A dozen those — for forty cents."

"No thanks, please. Just put them in a bag and here's the money."

When he reached home he handed the bag to his wife. "There you are," he said with satisfaction. "Forty cents a dozen."

She looked at the contents. "But these are the small ones," she smiled. "They're thimbs-five a dozen!"

M.V.B.C. NEWS

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Open House was attended by a fair number of people from as far as Edmonton. The cold weather, meeting, holiday week and etc., decreased the numbers somewhat, but we were quite pleased with the attendance. Miss Sharman and Ormand Sherick had fine programs of music arranged for people sat in the lounge room enjoying their dinner luncheon. Students escorted the guests through the dormitories, to the Chapel where Mrs. Suder showed slides, not only of the College but also of the Holy Land where she had toured during the summer. Many expressed their appreciation of her excellent lecture and description of the tour. Some of the ladies helped to prepare the luncheon in the kitchen and the girls, Mrs. Taylor's Sunday school class acted as waitresses. Several of the church ladies poured. Altogether the guests were a happy group of people who again saw with interest the many improvements in the dormitory rooms. We appreciate all the help given, and want to say a hearty "Thank you" to all who did so.

President Taylor returned from Ontario on Wednesday. He was the guest of honour at the General Conference of the church. He reports a very splendid Conference bringing to us some highlights of the Conference: A General Superintendent has been elected over all the Conferences, so that Rev. Kenneth Geiger, whom some of you met last winter, will be in our midst at least once each year. Mr. Taylor is also a member of the Board of Education of the church, and has a definite responsibility in connection with the policy of our two Bible Colleges and Liberal Arts College. We appreciate this honor conferred upon him.

Mrs. M. A. Finlay of Edmonton, is a visitor over the weekend in the Taylor home.

Mrs. Lois Suder of Calgary is a visitor in her mother's home this weekend. She returned on Thursday. Lois is taking a business course in that city.

Several friends have supplied the College with a quantity of feed for our cows. Thank you friends.

The students have organized themselves into groups for Valley Ball etc., under the capable leadership of Earl Reimer. They are giving real attention to physical education this year.

The two classes have organized with these results: President of the Senior Class, Mrs. H. J. Patterson; president of the Junior Class, David Archibald. Faculty Advisors for these are President Taylor, and Miss Gladys Eby, respectively. Our Associated Student Council has as its panel now Pres. Clifford Quanz, Vice-pres. Arnold Dietz; Sec., Miss Janet Steeves; treas., Clifford Baughman; president of the World Gospel Mission, Helmuth Fester; class president, Harry Dyck, David Archer; editor of the newspaper, Kenneth Shantz; social-recreation chairman, Earl Reimer. We expect much from these splendid young people this winter. Clifford Baughman also directs the Gospel Service League of the College.

We have a splendid arrangement of quartettes, trios and ensembles this winter. These young people will be taking part in many different services this winter. They do very good singing and are working diligently at their parts. Ormand Sherick is directing the choir until such time as Mr. Widmark will be able to return. He is doing a splendid job.

BANGS VACCINATION: Under the present Bangs Restricted area set-up as it was since the beginning we propose to continue carrying on the same idea of vaccinating all cattle calves between the ages of 4 to 10 months. Two calf crops have already been vaccinated and we are at present working on the third calf crop. It is believed that the program will continue in its present form for two more years. Then, after every cattle man has had opportunity for a number of years to build up his breeding stock with vaccinated cattle, the second phase of the program will be instituted namely to carry out the blood testing of all unvaccinated female stock and have them removed if they are found to be infected. It is obvious then that everyone who has cattle should attempt to comply with the vaccination program and proceed to build up for himself a herd of vaccinated cattle. Any that fail or refuse to go along with the program might, when blood testing is instituted find that they could lose most if not all of their breeding stock should they

CREMONA NEWS

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Remembrance Day services were conducted in the Cremona hall by Canon W. H. Morgan of Anglican Church of the Ascension, late principal chaplain of Military District No. 13. He was assisted by Rev. A. Dietz of the Cremona United Missionary Church who read the scripture readings and by Mrs. Mary Bice, Prairie Prayer.

A parade formed at the Legion Hall at 10:15, preceding the service, and marched to the Cremona Hall in the following order: Canadian Legion color party; wreath bearers; Legion Veterans; Boy Scouts; Wolf Cubs; C.G.I.T.

The Mountain View Homes and School met in the Cremona school the evening of November 9. There was a good turnout. The majority of the evening was spent planning a Christmas party to be held in the Cremona hall on December 22. The officers for the year are: Dr. D. Taylor, president; Mr. R. Muir, secretary; Mrs. F. Rodway, treasurer.

The United church W.A. held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Alan Reid on Friday, November 4th. Plans were completed for the annual chicken supper to be held in the church basement Thursday, November 24.

Malcolm McLean, Cremona Junior high school teacher came a couple of days ago Tuesday, November 8. During P.T. period he dislocated his shoulder. He was back to school on Thursday with his arm in a sling. He expects to be able to abandon the sling in about ten days.

The latest report on Mrs. Edwin Reid is that she is recovering from a broken hip. She is hoping to be able to leave the hospital next week. Mrs. Faye Stone started out to drive to Crossfield on Thursday and ended up in the hospital. She left her car demolished in a ditch after colliding with a truck.

L.A.C. Delbert Boettger was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. Burkholder last Thursday evening. Delbert has thirty days leave and is home at present with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Boettger.

The teacher, having given what she thought was a clear and simple explanation of the intricacies of the calendar, asked: "Now tell me — what month has 28 days?"

After some thought one of her small fry answered brightly: "They all have."

TUBERCULOSIS ON THE RUN... HELP STILL NEEDED!!!

Mr. A. H. Branch, president of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association, announced recently that the culmination of weeks of preparation by volunteer committees throughout the province was reached this weekend with the mailing of Christmas Seals in the opening of the campaign to $214,000.

The objective this year is slightly higher than the $210,000 raised in 1954 which is expected, will enable the Association to complete the project undertaken five years ago of installing equipment in hospitals for routine X-ray of all hospital admissions.

In addition to the protection of hospital staffs and patients against possible infection, it has been found that these entering hospitals in the general population and thus many unanticipated cases are brought to light.

Deaths from tuberculosis have declined during recent years and Alberta now enjoys the second lowest death rate in Canada, but, possibly due to the intensified case-finding effort, there are as many new cases being discovered as ever. Fortunately, early discovery not only means shorter term of treatment but a greater chance of recovery and restoration of health.

In connection with the Christmas Seal campaign, Mr. D. W. Robertson, chairman of the Red Deer and Central Alberta Rotary Club TB Christmas Seal Committee, said, "Now more than ever is the battle to wipe out T.B. The disease can be controlled and finally eliminated altogether with the continuation of present methods of treatment and official efforts of voluntary and official organizations in the fighting field. That is why it is so important that the people continue to support us as they have in the past."

HIGHER TURKEY

Canadians are expected to carve up 31 million pounds of turkey on their Christmas tables this year. It will probably cost them 2c-3c pound more than last year, reports The Financial Post.

Main reason for the more expensive turkey is the fact that production for the year — some 35.7 million pounds has not increased greatly over the last year while demand has continued its steady upward climb. Surveys of the main turkey-producing provinces, Ontario, Quebec, B.C., Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan, show marketings through registered poultry stations won't be much above the 1954 record level with prices for eviscerated turkey hens will run in the 50c-62c range wholesale, compared with 57c-59c last year.
